

All three engines scored against exact solutions

Contact-free, MJX-JAX and MuJoCo-Warp are numerically identical and both sit at float32 distance from MuJoCo-C. Under contact they separate. Every engine creeps ~ 1.1 mm/s under a block that should be perfectly static — a property of MuJoCo's soft-contact model, not of any one implementation.